

Elevate Your Game
Maximize Your Potential

SPEED & AGILITY TRAINING

Speed and agility are two very important components for an athlete to excel at their sport at a high level. Many sports require the individual to have a quick first step, the ability to change direction, instant reaction time, speed, power, flexibility, and endurance. Join us as we guide you through a combination of plyometrics, speed training, agility, stretching and conditioning drills. Regardless of which sports you play, everyone benefits from being more explosive, quicker, and having better footwork. Elevate your game and maximize your potential with Kinetic Energy.
